

Environmental Management Program

Are you a Facilities or Production Manager/Director who also wears the Environmental Manager's/Director's hat? Are you an Environmental Manager/Director who has a mountain of tasks to complete? Are you competing with other companies who have successful environmental management programs and only use an environmental consultant for a specific project or just to audit your facility for compliance issues? Then you should consider CAPACCIO's Environmental Management Program (EMP).

With CAPACCIO's EMP, a member of our staff becomes part of your environmental team, so you can outsource some of your tasks and focus on your environmental compliance and management goals. Our EMP can complement existing staff or be used to alleviate temporary or long-term workloads, so you will no longer need to assign part-time duties to inexperienced personnel or hire additional personnel and incur the associated overhead and benefits costs.

Many companies choose to outsource several facilities/site related services such as security, cafeteria, cleaning services, grounds maintenance and administrative services to keep total costs down. Why not outsource your environmental services in this same way? Your company will not only have an experienced environmental specialist solely responsible for managing and implementing your environmental program activities, but will also have access to the expertise of our entire consulting firm, a ready source of capable, experienced personnel committed to performing quality work, to help make your environmental program the best it can be.
